ABOUT ME

Aspiring Front-End Web Developer with practical experience in creating and deploying responsive web applications. Skilled in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and React.js, with additional knowledge of Python, Flask, and SQL for back-end integration. A high school graduate currently awaiting graduation from Moringa School's Software Development program, where I've built several real-world projects. I actively showcase my work on GitHub, and deploy projects using platforms like Netlify and Vercel. Passionate about clean code, user-friendly design, and continuously learning—currently exploring UI frameworks like Bootstrap, Tailwind CSS, and Material UI to enhance my frontend development toolkit.
